MAN KILLED IN ROW

Two Italians Accused of Crime—Son Arrested and Father Gets Away

Philadelphia, June 15.—During a fracas, said to have started over a nickel, a young man was murdered Sunday night on a baseball field along the Chestnut Hill branch of the Reading Railroad, near Magnolia street. The victim was James Dean, 26 years old, 5905 Stenton avenue, Germantown. He was shot twice and stabbed three times. The murder is said to have been the work of Italians, a father and son. The latter, Frank Oresto, was arrested. The father made his escape.

The police have not been able to get an accurate account of the events that led up to the shooting. As far as they could learn, Dean was walking across the field, where the Italians were having a celebration and got into a quarrel with one of their number because he refused to give him a nickel. A fight started and the two Orestos are alleged to have drawn weapons and attacked Dean.

F. Wood.

While the State was only compelled to make out a prima facie case, counsel for La Croix endeavored to have sufficient evidence produced to show that there was no intention on the part of La Croix to take the Schriener child away from Smyrna, but on the other hand, did so at the instance of Mrs. LaBelle Schriener.

Magistrate Wood ruled that all that was necessary before him was to establish teh case, which he declared had been done by the State, and held La Croix without bail, the offense being a capital one in Delaware. The case will be heard at the coming July term of Court at Oyer and Terminer.

SO-CALLED "BLUE LAWS"

One of the topics of much discussion in the general assembly of Virginia recently adjourned and a cause of much conversation among the people of our state is the so-called "blue laws," which have to do with certain personal liberty restrictions and Sunday observances. The Encyclopedia Americana defines "blue laws" as a term generally applied to any laws which impose vexatious restrictions and interfere with the ordinary life of a community, or seek to regulate the private morals of that community.

The Richmond Journal says: "It is interesting to know how these laws received their name. Early in the history of the New Haven colony a group of strict and severe Sabbath day and personal liberty laws, which carried with them stringent penalties, were issued in book form under a blue cover. Whether it was because of the binding or because of their depressing character that they received their name it is hard to tell.

"If a person should fail to attend church on the Sabbath day, unless he was sick, he should lose his allowance for one week. If he missed the second time not only would his allowance stop but he would receive a whipping. If he missed again he should be put to death. Speaking against the Trinity and articles of Christian faith and deriding God's holy word were followed by death.

For refusing to go to the minister for religious instruction the offender was, for the first neglect, whipped in public contrition; on the second occasion he was whipped twice, and if he offended again he was confined to the galleys for three years. If a person blasphemed God he would be severely punished; for the second offense he would receive a bodkin thrust through his tongue, and thirdly, he was to be put to death.

"Were a man to show disrespect to a minister in any way he would be thrice whipped and compelled to get up in church and publicly ask pardon on three sucessive Sabbath days. All persons were required to keep regular hours of work in the colony. If one refused he was made to lie with neck and heels tied together all night.

"Any person inhabiting the colony of Virginia and entertaining any Quaker in or near his house should be fined 5,000 pounds of tobacco.

"Pollard's revision of the Virginia code (1910) provides that if any person is found laboring on the Sabbath he shall be fined five dollars. We now come to the act which so disturbs the inhabitants of our state—that is, the law prohibiting the sale of unnecessary articles Sunday. In 1916 this act was passed, and since then there has been much dissatisfaction. Little or nothing was done to avert it until the last legislature ruled that the local governments shoud decide whether or not the law should be enforced."

ONLY REAL REMEDY

The high cost of living is an undisputed fact about which everybody complains vociferously and indignantly. The general disposition is to consider big business and little business as the criminals principally responsible. There are business profiteers, of course, but a glance at the returns from taxes on luxuries shows there are a great many persons who have money to burn on pleasure, and who are really not much worried by high prices. According to the figures given out the other day says the Baltimore "SUN" Marylanders during April spent $1,100,000 for theatrical and other entertainments including movies races and baseball, and $811,000 for soft drinks and ice-cream.

"The high cost of living is largely another name for the high cost of loafing and the high cost of squandering. Industrious and frugal people are necessarily affected by the indolence and the prodigality of the loafers and the lavish spenders. The former reduce production and the latter help to whole producing public co-operated in producing things, and the whole consuming public in sane economy, the price problem would not long remain to vex us.

"We have been calling on the Government to solve this problem, when it has been evident all along that its real solution mainly depends on the people themselves. Attorney-General Palmer's mistake consisted in promising to perform an impossibility, and in trying to work out a remedy from the top down only, instead of from the bottom up at the same time. Another disappointment awaits us if we expect to cure the trouble by the alluring prescriptions of political platforms."

DAILY STOCK TRAINS

How solidly Virginia is developing her agricultural possibilities are shown by the action of the Southern Railway in putting on two fast stock freight trains daily, to run from Atlanta and Chattanooga to Potomac Yards at Alexandria, with connections from Danville to Richmond. This is to distribute all perishable goods from the South to eastern markets, and bring live stock to Virginia feeding grounds. This service was established in 1912 to run once a week, to serve a limited territory, and has grown so steadily that the new arrangement is necessary to meet the new demand.

Young men discontented with the farm should contemplate items of this kind before coming to the hasty conclusion that only cities offer opportunities for business advancement. The abandoned farm is going to stand for an abandoned chance in life, if given up too lightly. There is hard work on a farm; but with improved machinery and improved methods of cultivation, agriculture has taken its place as a profession with all the dignity which brains can give it.

DIVINE COMMAND TO WORK

Every man is under a Divine command to work, with no Divine permission to loaf. "Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work" is the voice of Almighty God, and from the day when it was uttered, all the way through the Old Testament and the New, there rings the cry of Work.

"In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread."

Under this Divine command no man can escape his duty to work without violating God's law.

The loafer, whether he be rich or poor, is violating one of the fundamental laws of creation and is living contrary to the teachings of the Bible.

Every man must work, not grudgingly, not as though work were a curse, but with his heart full of thanksgiving that he has the privilege of working. It has been well said, "Thank God every morning when you get up that you have something to do that day, which must be done, whether you like it or not. Being forced to work and forced to do your best will breed in you a hundred virtues which the idle never know."

The idler can never be happy. The loafer knows that loafing is a harder job than the hardest work he ever did.

As every man is under Divine command to work, no man has a right to yield obedience to any organization which says he shall not work.

The man who permits the labor leader or anyone else to say he shall not work is yielding his own God-given independence and violating the Divine command which tells him he must work.

The labor leader, whether he be of high or low degree, in public office or the paid agent seeking to earn a living by keeping others from work, is assuming the prerogatives of the Almighty and undertaking to put at naught the commands of the Eternal.—(Manufacturers' Record.

SODA DRINKS GO UP
THIRSTY HIT HOOCH

New York, June 14.—"O!" Manhattan slamned Hi Cost in the midriff today when he refused to pay a 30 per cent increase in the price of soft drinks. When informed by the deft soda dispenser that soda drinks, without ice cream, were 15 cents a copy, he turned round and proceeded to a "speak easy" with which he was familiar, and a whispered word to the barkeep brought him a thimbleful of real hooch—for 75 cents. But his verdict was that it was worth the difference.

This sign was hung in a conspicuous place in downtown drug and confectionery stores:

"Owing to the High Cost of Sugar, Plain Soda Drinks are now 15 cents."

But what hit the majority of Gothamites hardest was the increase in the price of near beers and near stimulants. Your New Yorker plunked down the usual nickel and a penny for a war tax with the demand: "One coke."

FIND FAMILY SLAIN

Sisterville, W. Va., June 15.—Fred C. Seckman, with his wife and four children, were found dead in their home near here yesterday by neighbors who saw the house in flames.

Police believe Seckman, who was suffering from ill health, became deranged and after cutting the throats of his wife and children set fire to the house and then killed himself.

FIRE KILLS TWO GIRLS

Monroe, La., June 15.—Fire caused by the striking of a match near a crater spouting gas ,is raging in Union County, Arkansas, and threatens serious damage to surrounding oil and gas wells, according to reports here.

Two girls, who with several others suffered severe burns from the explosion, which occurred Sunday, are dead, telephone reports from Eldorado, Ark., said. A third young woman may die.

DYNAMITE

The man who lits not a box of dynamite smoking a pipe is invariably the man who has handled dynamite safely for so many years that he is callous to the danger.

Many a man has suffered for years from a chronic weakness of the Stomach, Liver or Kidneys and he doesn't think they are dangerous because he has put up with them so long. Chiropractic locates the cause of disease as pressure on spinal nerves at their exit between joints of the Backbone, Adjusting removes the pressure and the cause of disease, Health follows as a matter of course.

Efforts to have the strike of the Richmond job printers, which was begun almost a year ago, called off by Typographical Union No. 90 will be made at the next meeting of the local. A resolution has been drawn calling upon the union to declare the strike at an end and will be presented. There are no unemployed union printers in the city, most of the men who went on strike having obtained work in union offices in Richmond and elsewhere. The object of the proposed action is to enable union shops to take work that was put under the ban when the printers walked out.

FEUD COSTS TWO LIVES

Baby in Crib is Hit by Stray Bullet During Pistol Battle

Bristol, Va., June 15.—Two men are dead and four wounded as the result of a pistol battle which occurred at Esserville, Va., Sunday afternoon, according to advices received from Nortonia, Va.

The dead are Robert Fee and George Polly, while a baby, struck by a stray bullet, and DeWitt Fee, are seriously wounded. Two other participants, Tom and George Berry, were only slightly wounded.

The trouble started two days prior to the pistol battle, when the Fee brothers are alleged to have held up a deputy sheriff, a member of the Berry faction, and relieved him of his pistol. The Berrys, enraged over this act on the part of their enemies, armed themselves, according to reports, and started after the two Fee brothers. The Fees, hearing of the rumors of sworn revenge on the part of the Berry family, are also said to have armed themselves. Meeting on the streets of Esserville, Sunday afternoon, George and Tom Berry, father and son, and George Polly, of the Berry faction, opened fire, according to reports, on Robert and Dewitt Fee, who returned the fire. During the battle which followed, a baby, 5 months old, in the Polly home, was shot while lying in its crib by a stray bullet

SLAYS WIFE AND SELF

Two-year-old Child in Hospital Dying; Violent Struggle Precedes Shooting at Lancaster

Lancaster, Pa., June 15.—John Mull, 28 years old, early yesterday evening shot and killed his 20 year old wife and then shot their two-year-old child Helen, through the body. The child is at the General Hospital in an apparently dying condition.

The tragedy occurred at home of Mrs. Mull's widowed mother, Mrs. Mary Reese. Mull after the shooting, went to Martin's drug store, drank a glass of soda water and then went to his rooms and blew his brains out.

Some weeks ago he had stolen the child from the mother, but she quickly recovered her. Yesterday evening he entered the Reese house quietly and went upstairs, where Mrs. Mull was preparing the child for a nap. He shot her through the neck and in the shoulder.

The woman's clothing beares evidence of a violent struggle, probably following a threat to kill. After shooting the baby, Mull coolly departed. The couple had been married three years, but had separated several months ago,

MURDER 600 WOUNDED

New York, June 15.—The Polish Bureau of Information here last night announced the receipt of a cable dated Warsaw, June 13, stating that Bolshevist troops which cut the communications with Kiev between Berdyczow and Zytomierz, signalized their entrance into the latter town by burning a military hospital and killing 600 wounded soldiers.

They also murdered all the doctors and Sisters of Charity who remained behind to care for the wounded, the cable said.

Window glass was not used until the fourth century.

Babylonian law survived long after Babylon ceased to exist as a state.

Ownership in Hands of Agents

New York, June 15.—The task of selling the favorite motor car of the late Russian Czar, and of the equipages and other vehicles of former Kaiser Wilhelm, has been assigned to the foreign trade department of the American Express Company.

These vehicles are to be sold in America despite the fact that the problem of marketing them would be much simpler abroad. It is believed the sale of these machines in the United States will create keener interest here in high-powered foreign cars than heretofore, and that it will stimulate to a very considerable extent the trade in foreign makes.

The car once owned by the late ruler of Russia is in Stockholm, and the agents there have advised by cable that they possess numerous documents and credentials positively establishing that the auto was used by the Czar up to the time of his deposition. Likewise, credentials from Holland prove the ownership of the former Kaiser's vehicles.

The Russian ruler's car is a phaeton, built especially for him at Belleville, France. It is equipped with a body which was made in Paris and retains the original paint and upholstering. It is a sixty-five horsepower machine, with six separately cast cylinders, and has four speeds forward. It is lighted inside and out by electric carbide lights. On the rear wheels are double tires. It is finished in ultra marine leather and mahogany and contains six spacious closets.

Myer Metzman, a young man with the woman, had both legs broken. He is in the Atlantic City Hospital. Coroner Cadman continued the inquest till Monday morning. The woman's husband was last heard from at Eddystone. Delaney is a son of former City Commissioner Delaney.

TO OUR COAL TRADE

Under present conditions our receipts of domestic coal are limited and prices are constantly changing.

We will be glad to enter orders; deliver the coal as promptly as we can secure it, and bill it to our customers on the basis of cost to us plus our usual gross margin, and this will have to be our policy at this time as everything indicates great uncertainty in the coal trade.

Our customers can be assured that we will do everything possible to keep the price as low as we are able to, consistent with quality, weight and service, and we shall be glad to have you entrust the business to us on this basis.

This also applies to any orders we already have from our trade.

A Week's Vacation for Twelve Dollars

With all the Trimmings in the Way of Sun-Burn, Appetites and Pep

COUNTRY AIR AND CAMP LIFE GIVES CITY GIRLS SO MUCH PEP THEY JUST HAVE TO BE DOING SOMETHING
PRETTY GIRL CAMPERS ENJOYING A PIC-NIC ON A SECLUDED BEACH
A TYPICAL Y. W. C. A. CAMP. EVERY-BODY HAPPY, EVERY-BODY GLAD.

By Margaret C. Weddell

Would you guess that a girl could spend a week in a woodsy place, swimming when she liked it, canoeing if she knew how, bacon-batting when she could get up early enough, hiking across country when seh felt particularly peppy and lying around in cool, still places when she wanted to be quiet—that she could do all this to the tune of twelve dollars a week? Just that has been done and is being done by thousands of girls (over 50,000 to be specific) this summer The secret? Y. W. C. A. Summer Camps!

No longer is the fainting heroine and the delicate girl popular in the United States. It's the healthy, fresh-skinned, athletic girl with the "rouge that won't come off" on her cheeks because its "painted from the inside" that is the ideal today and that is why the summer camps are popular. Every girl would rather have a natural bloom on her cheeks than the fifty-cents-a-box kind and she knows that the surest way to get it is by out-door living, wholesome food and lots of exercise. She knows too that this is the keenest sort of fun. So when summer comes and she has a week or two off from work, she chooses a camp for her vacation trip. She does, that is, if she is wise, and so many girls are growing "wise lately that all the camps in the country have waiting lists and disappointing inquirers.

Y. W. C. A. camps are run, primarily, for girls who work the year around in factories, shops, stores or offices and who have to cram into seven short days enough fresh-air and sunshine flower picking and hiking to last twelve months. in location, management, equipment and pure fun these camps are quite as surprisingly delightful as those run for the "Poor Little Rich Girls" at several hundred per.

Number one on the list of delicious features of camp life is the fact that the vacation girl can wear bloomers every day and all day, can swing along with freedom undreamed of in full-dress days. No man (unless he has taken ladies' parts in plays) can understand what a joy that is to a girl and no girl who hasn't stepped out of her bothersome short, tight skirt or full, trammeling one can appreciate the delight either. On Sundays, perhaps, and guest days, skirts are donned but for the rest of the time—never!

Number two in the list is the easy chance for out-door sports. There are "play leaders" or athletic directors in all the camps and, planning with them, a councillor for every group of ten or twenty girls. Among them baseball matches are arranged or cross-country hikes, or bird-hunting trips (with field glasses in lieu of guns); water sports are taught, water contests are planned; early morning bacon-bats, with wood fire, coffee-and-canned-cream, and all the usual accessories are indulged in and moonlight marshmallow roasts or water-melon sprees are staged. For the girl who wants to be quiet and lazy ,there are such places as "Crows Nests" built high in the tree branches where reading or dreaming is the most natural sport to indulge—or there's the sunny beach where a blanket spread on the sand makes the laziest sort of a "chaise longue." Or there are queer, lonely places along the river's edge which the romantic soul can discover and keep as her sanctum.

And of course, a third joy is the simple life one lives sleeping in tents or cabins with a wooden box for a dressing table and one 8 inch mirror for five or six girls; no wardrobe space other than the suite case under the cot and no private bath except the thin basin on a stand. There's always a chance to pull your cot into the open and sleep under the stars and no one really knows the stars, so Stevenson says, "who has not slept a la belle etoile" The food? One always accepts good eats as a part of the camp game; perhaps, because one is so hungry that anything tasts good! But things are good when there's a special cook to prepare the food and the whole country-side to choose from in the matter of strawberries, cream, newly-made butter and green vegetables.

There are one hundred and fifty-three Y. W. C. A. camps opening this month in all parts of the country from the Pacific to the Atlantic Coast, accomodating over 50,000 girls during the season. In the New England States and New York, thirty-two camps give vacations to ten thousand girls; in Ohio and West Virginia seventeen camps accommodate over three thousand industrial girls; in the west certain camps draw most of the mining districts. The cost of a week's stay at these camps varies from $6 to $8 and with the usual carefare involved brings the total expense to ten or twelve dollars. There is not much in teh way of fun health and out door medicine that you can get for twelve dollars these days!

Yet to sum up this is what the Y. W. C. A. Camps offer:

Boating, bathing and swimming under trained instructors; tramps through beautiful secluded woods; picnics in the woods; bacon-bats; camp fires by the lake; baseball, basketball and all kinds of games; auto trips, sleeping out parties. In unpleasant weather there are open fires in the halls, and a place where stunts, concerts, dramatics etc., are given. The trees and hills abound in birds and flowers and you can learn to know and enjoy them.

CALOMEL HORROR TOLD BY DODSON

You Don't Need to Sicken, Gripe, or Salivate Yourself to Start Liver

You're bilious, sluggish, constipated. You feel headachy, your stomach may be sour, your breath bad, your skin sallow and you believe you need vile, dangerous calomel to start liver and bowels.

Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling splendid. It is perfectly harmless so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate.
